MORE PEACE TALKS HEARD AT NANKING

Highly Placed Sources Hint Of Plans To Reorganize Government Preliminary To Overtures

PRESSURE ON CHIANG

Nanking, China, Dec. 28.—(P)—A new crop of peace rumors blossomed strongly in China's capital today.

Several highly placed sources hinted of plans to reorganize the government as a preliminary to a negotiated peace with the Chinese Communists. Top officials vehemently denied the reports.

Despite denials, usually well-informed sources insisted they were "very certain" that important developments looking toward a new national leadership and probably peace could be expected before New Year's day.

This is a reversal of the view that was generally accepted yesterday. Then almost everyone felt Communist publication of a list of "war criminals" to be punished by a "peoples court" knocked out possibility of peace talk.

Today, the only thing that appeared fairly certain was that the decision to fight on or permit peace talks rests with President Chiang Kai-Shek, whose name headed the Communists list of "war criminals."

Chiang is under strong pressure to step down, probably under the excuse of physical ailments. This would permit Vice President Li Tsung-Jen to take over and explore the possibility of peace talks. Similar rumors have arisen periodically for the last six months.

Military signs were that Chiang was preparing to fight on, amassing remnants of his once huge armies along the south bank of the Yangtze river.

Military leaders assigned the job of defending the Yangtze are not too happy about it. No general in history has ever been able to retain control over China by trying to defend the Yangtze. In historical times military dominance of China has hinged on control of three river lines—the Yangtze, Hwai and Yellow. Chiang already has lost the Yangtze line.

Military men say the Communists, now better equipped than the Nationalists, will march on Nanking as soon as their victorious troops are rested.

Nationalist forces have shown a decreasing willingness to fight. Latest report of a defection of Chiang's forces involved the air force. Usually reliable sources said (Turn to Page Two)

WELLES' CONDITION IS SATISFACTORY

Washington, Dec. 28.—(P)—The condition of Sumner Welles, former undersecretary of state, was called "satisfactory" today, having complications that could cost him some of his fingers and toes.

Welles was found unconscious in a frozen field about a mile from his Oxon Hill, Md., home early Sunday morning. Police, who earlier had planned to question him, dropped the case last night. They said Mrs. Welles told them she is satisfied that there was no foul play.

Friends believe that the 56-year-old former diplomat may have suffered a heart attack or had fall during a late-night walk seeking relief from insomnia.

RETIRED BANKER DIES

Pittsburgh, Dec. 28.—(P)—Albert Baker Shaw, 77, retired banker, died of a heart attack yesterday at his home in Pittsburgh. He had been with the Union Trust Co. here more than 30 years and when he retired in 1933 was head of its bond department. He leaves a son and three daughters. Funeral services will be held Wednesday.

STRICKEN IN OFFICE

Pittsburgh, Dec. 28.—(P)—Bernard Feldman, 40, went to see a heart specialist yesterday. After the doctor had taken his cardiogram, Feldman said suddenly, "I feel ill." Three minutes later he was dead.

Twelve Stranded On Frigid Greenland Icecap Rescued

Washington, Dec. 28.—(P)—Twelve men who have been stranded on a frigid Greenland icecap up to three weeks were rescued today, the Air Force announced.

They were picked up by a C-47 operating from an air base which is 270 miles northwest of the crash scene, the announcement said.

The rescue came as the U. S. S. Saipan dove northward through the storm-swept Atlantic in an effort to reach the men with helicopters. The Navy carrier sailed from Norfolk, Va., on Christmas Day.

The Air Force said it had been in error in previous announcements that 13 men were stranded on the ice peak.

It had assumed, it said, that two men were aboard a glider which made the "previous attempt," when in reality only one man was aboard. Seven men were

Truman Declines Elaboration Of Disclosures That Soviet Leaders Seek Cold War End

Kansas City, Dec. 28.—(P)—President Truman refused today to elaborate on his surprise statement that "certain leaders" in Soviet Russia are "exceedingly anxious" to settle differences with the United States amicably.

Approached by reporters at the end of his daily before-breakfast walk at his Independence Home, the president declined to enlarge on his "off-the-cuff" luncheon revelation yesterday.

"There has been a lot of speculation about your statement concerning certain leaders in Russia," a reporter said. "Could you clarify it?"

"You will just have to continue to speculate," the president said. Then his face relaxed to a slow smile.

Young Woman Convicted In German Trial

Marburg, Germany, Dec. 28.—(P)—Mrs. Wilma Ybarbo of Malden, Mass., was convicted today of killing her American soldier husband in a bedroom quarrel. She was sentenced to 20 years in prison.

The U. S. military government court of three American judges convicted Mrs. Ybarbo of killing Sgt. John Ybarbo of Goliad, Tex., "with malice aforethought."

The 23-year-old defendant hardly changed the expression on her pale face as she heard the verdict.

Mrs. Ybarbo's attorney said he would appeal the verdict to the military government court of appeals in Nuernberg and then to a U. S. federal court if necessary.

The court's lengthy opinion did not specify the degree of the crime for which she was convicted. It held her guilty of the rough equivalent of manslaughter under German law or second degree murder in the U. S. code.

The court had deliberated six days, having announced a dead-end just before Christmas.

The verdict climaxed a sensational seven-day trial spiced with witnesses' stories of illicit love, soldier-fraulein parties and husband-wife brawls.

It was the first murder trial of an American woman in occupied Germany.

Tradition To Rule Opening Day of State Legislature

Harrisburg, Dec. 28.—(P)—Rock-ribbed tradition takes precedence for a day over stormy legislative issues when the 138th session of the general assembly convenes here next Tuesday.

A host of controversial subjects, headed by the dynamite tax problem, are up for airing in the 1949 session, but all must wait while long standing organizing ritual is observed.

Peace and quiet will reign supreme for the opening day at least. Following a custom extending back to the days of Billy Penn, opposing legislative groups will hold their fires to participate in traditional ceremonies.

Both houses will convene at 12 o'clock noon, organize and elect officers. Afterwards they will meet jointly to hear the opening message of Gov. James H. Duff.

The legislature is expected to adjourn after its one-day session until the week of January 17. The prolonged adjournment will relieve rooming congestion in the capital during the annual State Fair Show here from Jan. 10-14.

Because of limited gallery seating in both the house and the senate, visitors to the opening session will be limited mainly to friends and relatives of the legislators.

The first step comes at 11 a. m. when Rep. Norman Wood, of Lancaster county, mounts the rostrum in the house and announces the house will meet at noon.

The majority member traditionally goes to the majority member with the oldest seniority ranking.

Following custom, the house will get down at noon to the business of organizing. Election returns will be read and the oath of office administered to the 117 Republican and 91 Democratic members.

The speaker, a chief clerk and a secretary. Rep. Herbert P. Sorg (R-Eli) already has been nominated by the GOP majority for the speaker's post. William Habbysch, of Harrisburg, chief clerk in 1947 and William Roan, of Plymouth, house secretary in 1947.

Faye Roosevelt's Injury Mysterious

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Dec. 28.—(P)—Faye Emerson Roosevelt, beautiful actress wife of Elliott Roosevelt, slashed her left wrist with a razor early Sunday in the couple's Hyde Park home, Sheriff C. Fred Clyde said last night.

The first victim quoted Dr. E. Sherman Hirst, who treated the 31-year-old Mrs. Roosevelt, as saying he understood the wound was self-inflicted and that she had to be restrained from injuring herself further.

But Roosevelt, reached by telephone, said the injury resulted from an accident.

"There is nothing to it," he added.

The cut was described as superficial. It required no stitches. After treating the blonde actress, Dr. Hirst sent her to Vassar Brothers Hospital here where she spent the night under observation. She was released at noon yesterday.

"It is my impression that the cutting was deliberate and I am asking Elliott Roosevelt to appear at the district attorney's office Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock for further details."

The Roosevelts were married four years ago, he for the third time and she for the second.

WILL ENLARGE STATE HOSPITAL IN BLAIR

Altoona, Dec. 28.—(P)—Plans for expansion of a state hospital for mental diseases have been furthered by state acquisition of the Blair county home.

Blair county commissioners said yesterday the state has taken title to the home for $225,000. The home adjoins the present state hospital. Its bed capacity will be increased from 370 to 1,500, the state welfare department says.

The welfare department already has allocated $5,947,472 for expansion of the mental hospital. It is another in a series of moves by the administration to provide increased mental hospital facilities.

SECOND WRECK VICTIM
Rochester, Pa., Dec. 28.—(P)—Injuries suffered in a Christmas Eve train accident at Freedom caused the death yesterday of William S. Skutley, 28, a Pennsylvania Railroad fireman. He was riding the locomotive of a Chicago-Pittsburgh mail express when it hit a derailed freight car. The engineer, Park J. Winegar, 53, died in the crash. Both men were Pittsburgh residents.

Prime Minister of Egypt Shot to Death In Cairo Ministry of Interior Building

BRITISH TEXT SAYS ISRAEL IS AGGRESSOR

Resolution Demands Immediate Cease Fire and Withdrawal of Negev Forces

STUDY BUNCHE REPORT

Paris, Dec. 28.—(P)—Britain called today for an immediate cease fire in southern Palestine and withdrawal of Israeli forces in the Negev.

British Delegate Harold Bealey submitted a resolution proposing the cease fire and Israeli withdrawal as the Security Council debated Egypt's charge that Israel had violated the truce with attacks Dec. 22 against Egyptian coastal positions in southern Palestine.

The resolution omitted any direct condemnation of Israel. This omission apparently was intended to attract American support.

The original British text, which the U. S. delegation referred to Washington last night for decision, proposed that Israel be declared the aggressor. American sources reported this morning that Britain probably would modify her proposal to meet possible U. S. objections.

Bealey urged that the Security Council's truce supervision committee be instructed to meet Jan. 6 at Lake Success to report on compliance with the cease fire and withdrawal orders.

These proposals would be based on the Security Council's truce orders of Nov. 4 which Bealey said must be enforced. Under that resolution, Israeli forces were to withdraw to positions occupied before their Oct. 14 advance and acting Mediator Ralph J. Bunche was authorized to fix a no-man's-land to prevent direct contact between Egyptian and Israeli troops.

M. Fawzi Bey, Egyptian delegate charged with selling arms in the Negev, displayed a "premeditated, most systematic and carefully synchronized" defiance of the council.

The council also will take up a report from acting Mediator Ralph Bunche on the renewal of fighting in Palestine.

The report contains statements (Turn to Page Two)

Where Sumner Welles Was Found

Brooke Kerby, Oxon Hill Md., farmer, and his son Henry, 10, point to the spot where they found Sumner Welles, former undersecretary of state. Welles had apparently had a heart attack while walking, and had lain all night in the 15-degree temperature in this field, near his home. He was first taken to the farm house, right. He is gaining in his fight for life in a Washington hospital, but physicians say it will be several days before they decide if amputation of badly frozen fingers and toes will be necessary.

Brewer and O'Shea Given Salty Sentence

Franklin, Dec. 28.—(P)—Dey Brewer, of Corry, and Eugene O'Shea, of Titusville, were sentenced to prison today in connection with a Venango county burglary several months ago.

Judge Lee A. McCracken sentenced the men to 7½ to 15 years in solitary confinement in Western Penitentiary. They also were fined $100, each, and ordered to pay cost of prosecution.

The men were convicted of burglarizing the Siye farm implement building at Seneca. Other burglary charges are pending against them in Crawford county.

BIG CHARTER PLANE REPORTED MISSING

Miami, Fla., Dec. 28.—(P)—A twin-engine C-3 charter plane with an undetermined number of passengers aboard was missing on a flight from San Juan, Puerto Rico, to Miami today.

A widespread air search began soon after dawn. Coast Guard and rescue headquarters here said army and navy planes joined coast guard rescue aircraft in the quest.

The area being covered extends 50 miles on each side of the Miami-San Juan Airway and the entire Bahama Island group.

The missing plane is owned by Karl Knight of Miami, but was operating under lease to Airborne Transport, Inc., a New York charter service. Knight said he had nothing to do with the operation of the leased craft.

Alias Santa Busy Compiling His Report To St. Nicholas

Alias Santa Claus was seated comfortably in his swivel chair at his battered roltop desk in the Times-Mirror office today. He puffed contentedly at his pipe in the manner of one who has just completed a big job and is relaxing momentarily before starting another.

"What are you doing, Alias Santa?" the office staff said, interrupting his quiet thoughts.

"Why," Alias Santa replied, "I've just completed a letter to Santa Claus."

"A letter to Santa!" the staff exclaimed. "Did he forget something on your list?"

"Oh no, not that," the jovial gent replied. "You see Santa's my boss and I'm just making my final report on my work here. Let me read it to you. It says:

"Dear Santa: My personal regards to you and Mrs. Claus. I hope you and your flying steeds were not seriously hurt when you smacked into that Iron Curtain over there in Europe. Seems to me they ought to put lights on a barrier like that or better still, let a little of the Christmas Spirit glow behind the curtain and melt the barrier altogether.

"I'm happy to say that there's no lack of the real Christmas Spirit here in Warren county. High prices for everything this year made it pretty tough on large families and in homes where the breadwinner has been unable to work because of illness. But you should have seen the wonderful way the good neighbors here responded to those in need. We received generous contributions of money, toys, clothing, bedding, fruit and candy from many individuals and organizations, and many of our good friends sent little notes with their gifts saying they wished they could do more.

"We were able to do a lot with those contributions. There was a

Feller Salary Cut In For Discussion

Cleveland, Dec. 28.—(P)—The Cleveland News quoted President Bill Veck of the Cleveland Indians today as saying he will ask his onetime top pitcher, Bob Feller, to take a salary cut in 1949.

In a story by Ed McCauley of the News staff, Veck conceded saying in Oklahoma City: "I'd like to make as much myself next year as Feller's cut in pay will be."

When Feller signed last year for around $52,000 he became the highest paid baseball pitcher in history.

Feller was in Van Meter, Ia., for his sister's wedding. McCauley quoted him as saying:

"I didn't have as good a year last season as I had in 1947, so I'm in line for a cut. On the other hand, the club drew a lot of people and made a lot of money, so I don't think the cut should be deep enough to put me out of business. x x x but I won't have any trouble coming to terms with Bill."

KILLER FAILS IN EFFORT TO END OWN LIFE

Assassin Declared To Belong To Outlawed Moslem Brotherhood Association

COUNCIL IN SESSION

Cairo, Dec. 28.—(P)—Prime Minister Mahmoud Fahmy Nokrashy Pasha was shot to death today by a student. The shooting occurred in the ministry of interior.

The killer, who fired five fatal shots and tried in vain to end his own life, was declared to belong to the outlawed Moslem Brotherhood Association, which has accused the premier of weakness in the war against the Jews in Palestine. The killer wore a police uniform, he said he "bought in an old clothes market."

Nokrashy Pasha, 60 died within five minutes. He uttered no last word. King Farouk, government ministers and diplomats immediately paid respects to the man who had headed Egypt's government most of the time since the war ended.

The assassin's name was withheld. He was placed under arrest at once.

The killing came at a critical time when Egyptian troops were locked in a six-day battle in southern Palestine. Egypt has accused Israel of flaunting United Nations cease fire orders in forcing the battle back to near the Egyptian border.

A policeman who belonged to Nokrashy Pasha's bodyguard gave this account of the assassination: The killer went to the interior ministry a few minutes before the prime minister arrived. One policeman tried to evict him but another vouched for the student who was allowed to remain. When Nokrashy Pasha arrived, the assassin saluted with one hand and fired with the other. The bodyguard and other police threw the killer to the floor.

The premier headed the Saadist party, which he helped form after being expelled in 1937, from the Nationalist WAED party.

In outlawing the Moslem Brotherhood, the 60-year-old prime minister charged the group with responsibility for violence which caused several deaths. The order followed a series of explosions in Cairo business establishments.

Nokrashy Pasha had been prime minister most of the time since the end of World War Two. Last year he went to the United Nations session in New York to plead Egypt's case for evacuation of British troops from the Suez Canal Zone.

He sent Egyptian troops into Palestine when the British mandate over the Holy Land ended to combat what he called aggression by "Terrorist Zionist gangs."

The Moslem Brotherhood accused him recently of weakness in prosecuting the Palestine campaign.

The slaying will bring a new prime minister to office at a critical point in Egypt's struggle against Israel. The government reported only last night that Israeli troops were continuing attacks against the Egyptian army in southern Palestine.

Nokrashy Pasha's body was taken to his home in suburban Heliopolis exactly an hour after he left there on his way to his office.

The Council of ministers was called into session at the presidency. A heavy guard surrounded both that building and the ministry of the interior.

Strict International Control System For The Ruhr Valley

London, Dec. 28.—(P)—The western powers set up today a strict international control system to bar Germany's industrial Ruhr valley from war production.

The Ruhr was ordered to produce solely for peace.

Their decision was announced in a formal communique as the climax of a six-week conference here attended by representatives of the United States, Britain, France, The Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg.

It contained no admission of Russia as a partner in the international control board to be known as the "Ruhr authority."

The agreement offered Germany a place on the board as soon as it develops a legal government. The Germans will have three votes—the same as the United States, Britain and France will have and two more than each of the Benelux countries which it overran in World War Two.

It set up an international system of inspection—the framework of an industrial police—to keep the Ruhr from becoming once again a war-making industrial machine as it did under Hitler and Kaiser Wilhelm.

It left unsettled the dynamite-laden question of ultimate ownership of the Ruhr's industries—a plan concession to France.

The French want international ownership. Britain prefers German public ownership. The United States favors private enterprise.

The agreement was for an indefinite term, leaving open the possibility the Ruhr might forever continue under international supervision.

This, too, was a concession to the French, often the victim of (Turn to Page Two)

Baby Kidnaped By Mother Is Located

Harrisburg, Dec. 28.—(P)—District Attorney Carl B. Shelley said today Vicki Jeanne Snyder, three-year-old child carried away by her mother, 10 days ago, has been found in Pomona, Calif.

Mrs. Eraget, mother of the missing child adopted by grandparents, and her husband were sought on a fugitive warrant charging kidnaping.

"As far as we know the child is safe and sound," said Shelley. He said Los Angeles police notified him that Mr. and Mrs. John Eraget, Tacoma, Wash., turned themselves in last night "after seeing publicity in the papers about the missing child."

Shelley swore out the warrant for the Eragets couple on a charge of kidnaping chestnut-haired Vicki.

Shelley said that the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Snyder legally adopted Vicki two years ago.

"The mother signed away all her rights to the child when she put her up for adoption, Shelley said. "She makes her no different than anyone else."

TWO TOTS BURN TO DEATH NEAR OLEAN

Olean, N. Y., Dec. 28.—(P)—Two children were burned fatally today when they destroyed their home near suburban Portville.

The victims were Mary Gayton, 4, and her sister, Crystal, 3. Their mother, Mrs. Douglas Gayton, was burned severely.

The fire is believed to have been caused by an oil stove explosion.

Dragon High-Scoring Guard Declared Eligible By PIAA

Joe Massa, Warren high school basketball coach, and local team followers got a belated Christmas gift today.

The Board of Control of the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association, meeting in Harrisburg this morning, declared Ted Shattuck, veteran high-scoring guard on the local high school cage squad, will be eligible for interscholastic athletic competition during the second semester of the current school term.

The vote by the board was unanimous, according to word received here today by School Board President Melvin Keller from Athletic Director J. B. Leidig and High School Principal Floyd Bahurk, who attended the P. I. A. A. board meeting.

The question of Shattuck's eligibility was raised voluntarily by local school officials. It was pointed out that Shattuck missed a full semester of school due to an illness, although his name was carried on the school rolls. School officials wanted an official ruling whether that semester had to be counted in determining Shattuck's eligibility under the P. I. A. A. eight-semester ruling.

Detroit Hotel Is Cleared Up By Admission

Detroit, Dec. 28.—(AP)—A 25-year-old college student was reported by police today to have admitted beating a casual acquaintance and then tossing his body out of a 14th floor hotel window.

Assistant Prosecutor Robert D. McClellan immediately asked a man named Robert E. Blaney, who described himself as a University of Pittsburgh student.

Inspector Erwin Schink and Detective Lt. Harry Williams said Blaney admitted beating John Dempsey, 41, after the latter made improper advances to him.

Dempsey's body was found in an alley behind the (Book Cadillac) Hotel Dec. 20.

Blaney originally was quoted by police as saying he accidentally knocked Dempsey through a window during a fight.

However, according to Schink and Williams, the student later said he met Dempsey in a hotel room and took him to his room. After the fight, when Dempsey did not revive, Blaney was quoted as saying he heaved the body through the window.

Then he spent the evening in the same room with an unidentified girl friend who showed up later to keep a date, the detectives said he told them.

Blaney said he came to Detroit from Pittsburgh to see about transferring to the University of Michigan as a GI student in chemistry.

"Then there was box after box—nearly a hundred so far as I can determine—of toys and clothing packed at the Times-Mirror office and sent out to needy families who might otherwise have been forgotten Christmas morning. I also want to mention the many grocery orders sent out, the load of coal for an elderly woman, and the grand response to several special requests like a washing machine for a widow with seven school-age kids, special shoes for a crippled girl, and the bandages and medical supplies for a man who has been bed-ridden ever since he underwent an operation last July.

"I also want to put in a good word for everybody who helped in any way in this project, especially the Times-Mirror business office girls and other members of the newspaper staff who did most of the heavy work of making the many purchases of needed items and of packing the boxes and distributing them. Thanks also go to the postoffice carriers and clerks and local merchants for their wonderful cooperation. And please enter in your good book the names of all those good folks who sent in contributions.

"Well, that's about all, Santa. Hope to see you soon."

Alias Santa then turned back to his desk, and was just about ready to slam the rollopp down for the last time, when he found an unexpected letter.

"Well, here's another five dollars from Mr. Anonymous with a little note that says: 'Perhaps this will help a little in paying your heavy Christmas bills.' Now isn't that thoughtful of her?"

And with that, Alias Santa vanished before our very eyes, and it was not until several minutes later when we had recovered from the shock that we discovered a little plaster statuette of Alias Santa, resting on top of his battered rollopp desk.

FAMILY OF 21 HAPPY
 Envo Theron Obitz, head of the Salvation Army in DuBois, Monday reported that a family of 21 members was the largest of nearly 150 families in this area to receive free Christmas dinners. The unusually large family, whose identity he refused to reveal, he said included the parents, 12 children and seven step-children. Almost four bushel baskets of food were required to satisfy the Christmas appetites of the clan. The average family received one bushel of meat, vegetables, fruit, candies and other Christmas delicacies.

VOTES SALES TAX
 Bradford Council Monday passed on first reading ordinances providing for a one percent tax on all retail sales within the city and a garbage collection fee of one dollar per month as sources of revenue to balance the proposed $563,603 budget for 1949. At the same time, Council approved on initial reading an ordinance reducing the water rates within the city 65 percent and heard a formal recommendation from Thomas Connelly, director of accounts and finance, calling for the repeal of the 1943 tax schedule—a 4 mill personal property tax, a 10 percent amusement tax and a $3 per capita tax.

Suspect In Slaying Is Found Suicide

Lykins, Dec. 28.—(AP)—The search for the husband of a 39-year old woman strangled in her bedroom ended today with the discovery of his body hanging from a pine tree in a swampy field.

State Police Sergeant George Funk said "we have concluded it was murder-suicide caused by jealousy of the husband, Michael Begani."

Funk said Begani's body was found less than a mile from his home by his three brothers, Andrew, William and George.

The state police officer said Begani's hands and clothing were blood stained.

Mrs. Begani's body was discovered in her apartment in this Dauphin county community yesterday. Two pairs of silk stockings were tightly knotted about her neck.

Funk quoted neighbors as telling him Mrs. Begani was afraid to go to the store because of her husband's jealousy.

He said a suicide note signed by Begani was found in the apartment. It directed Begani's mother to dispose of his wristwatch and money as she saw fit.

Sgt. Funk said the woman, had deep head cuts and her right index finger was almost ripped off.

The Beganis had been married seven months. She was the mother of two children by a former marriage, Dr. Herrold said.

Mrs. Aggie Fritz, who lives on the first floor of the apartment building, said she last saw the dead woman about 11 p. m. Sunday when Mrs. Begani came down stairs to buy a pack of cigarettes. The pack was on the kitchen sink with two cigarettes removed from it, Sgt. Funk said.

Bunchie later said at Lake Success, N. Y., he was unable to say who fired the first shot in the new Negev fighting. The current battle began six days ago and has spread to areas along Egypt's border.

The mediator explained the report contained statements from truce observers with the Egyptians which tended to blame Israel.

The report said the Israelis expelled observers from posts with York last night Bunchie said the Jewish forces on Dec. 21.

Tel Aviv, Israel, Dec. 28.—(AP)—Israeli blows appear to have cut the Egyptians' coastal corridor to Gaza or placed it so closely under gunights it is unlikely Egypt will be able to reinforce it.

An Israeli military spokesman said today the battle in southern Palestine was slackening.

Unofficial sources said the town of Gaza, Egyptian garrison post 20 miles north of the Egyptian frontier on the coastal highway, was either cut off or left in position from field artillery and naval batteries.

On the basis of unofficial information, it seemed here the second fight for control of the Negev was virtually ended. It centered on the narrow coastal strip within mortar range of the Egyptian border. The first battle was in October.

The Egyptians complained to United Nations truce headquarters at Haifa that Israeli forces yesterday seized a height in Arab Palestinian territory south of Khan Yunis. Khan Yunis is on the high ridge only five miles north of Egypt's Gaza frontier base, which was a point on the arc of combat.

The battle is now in its sixth day.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE with MAJOR HOOPLE

Warren Polio Victim Active In Play At Warm Springs, Ga.

It will greatly interest the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Boyle, 106 Water street, Warren, to learn that their daughter, Mrs. Esther Kline, wife of Calvin W. Kline, Frewsburg, N. Y., has finally secured an appointment for treatment at the Warm Springs, Ga., infantile paralysis center and will go there on January 1.

Mrs. Kline is the wife of a 22 year old army corporal who is proof reader in Company C, Infantry School Detachment, at Fort Benning, Ga.

According to an illustrated article appearing in the Columbus, Ga., Ledger, she has just recently had a prominent role in the costume of the public presentation of "Claudia" in that southern city. It reads in part:

The 23 year old North Warren, Pa., brunette has been crippled all her life. The costume work is just a hobby, for she's a housewife on the Post full-time.

At home she learned about costume designing from a private teacher, and also studied art work. After the couple arrived at the Post a year and seven months ago, they joined the Christian Fellowship association in Columbus. Mrs. Kline learned that the club had a dramatic outfit, and thought she might put her art talent to work. After being selected to choose costumes and set furnishings, she had been helped about town to various stores, by her husband and friends, as she made her choices.

George Gingell, of Radio Station WREB, a former New York stage director, says her recent effort with "Claudia" helped out a cast that may turn into Columbus' long-hoped for "Little Theatre".

Truckers Are Sponsoring Essay Contest

Harrisburg—All entries in the $2,875 essay contest sponsored by the Pennsylvania Motor Truck association on the subject: "The Place of the Motor Truck in Pennsylvania Industry" must be submitted to the association at Harrisburg by January 15, Edward Gogolin, general manager, reported.

The contest is open to all senior and junior high school students in Pennsylvania.

Requests for background information on motor transportation, Gogolin announced, have been received from 57 counties. The largest number of requests, he said, have come from Allegheny, York, Delaware, Clarion, Jefferson, Luzerne and Lackawanna.

For the best entry $1,000 cash will be paid, to be used at the winner's discretion. For the best entry in each county there will be a $25 cash award.

Length of essays is limited to 750 words. Entries must be typed or penwritten on 8 1/2 by 11-inch paper on one side only. The name, home address, grade in school, name and location of school and county of the students must appear in the upper left-hand corner.

The contest, said Gogolin, offers students a chance to use the knowledge they have gained about transportation from their studies, plus additional information, to compete for valuable prizes.

Basis for judging entries will be: Content, 70 per cent; originality, 20 per cent; neatness, 10 per cent. The contest judges are: Ray F. Smock, secretary of highways, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; P. O. Van Ness, executive secretary, Pennsylvania School Directors association; Mrs. James Meenan, president, Pennsylvania Congress of Parents and Teachers; Dr. Leonard P. Fox, general secretary, Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce; and W. F. Crosslett, president, Pennsylvania Motor Truck association.

The Boys' Department had a busy week before Christmas with 25 boys attending the full length feature movie on Tuesday evening. The Christmas party found 75 boys singing songs and enjoying a movie on Thursday evening. Many tournaments in ping pong, checkers, bowling and basketball were put on during the week with a large attendance by the Y. M. C. A. members.

The foul shooting contests held at the Y on Monday and Thursday show some interesting figures upon how important foul shooting is in sometimes winning basketball games. The Cadets shooting on Monday found Lester Nero first with 8 out of 15 shots, Carlo Deacon second with 6 out of 15 shots; Juniors finds Jay Tamburine first with 9 out of 15, and Jay Gibson second with 8 out of 15. Older boys first was taken by Paul Gordon with 10 out of 15 and Linton Knappberger second with 8 out of 15 shots. The Cadet test was repeated on Thursday and the Cadets class was won by two twin brothers—Tom Trussler shot 10 out of 15, with his brother John Trussler shooting 9 out of 15 shots. These boys equalled the records set by the older boys in both games and should show great promise in the future. They play basketball for the Johnson Street Gray-Y Club. The Juniors class was won by Bill Griffin with 10 out of 15 shots, the second place was tied by John Gibson and Danny Whaley, who in shooting lost their tie score of 9 out of 15 was won by Denny Daley, same score. The older boys' was won again by Paul Gibson, 10 out of 15 and second place, Roger Potch, with 9 out of 15 shots.

LANDER

Lander, Dec. 23—The Foster Cemetery Society held its annual Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Fred Ludwick. A delicious dinner was served to 18 members and guests. Mrs. Fred Ludwick presided at the business meeting and Mrs. Jay Cowles had charge of the program. After a song, "Silent Night," by all, Mrs. Harry Mahan read the Christmas Story and Mrs. Vincent Mills sang a solo, "Star of the East." Mrs. Warner Beck was reported ill of pneumonia. There will be no January meeting. Mrs. Mills joined the Society. Gifts were exchanged from the Christmas tree.

Homar Preston, who is attending Harvard University, is spending the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ludwick.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ludwick, Dennis Ludwick, Henry and Homer Preston were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Knapp of Youngsville.

Mrs. Carl Rowley has returned home after spending a few days with Mrs. Clark Springer, of Russell, who has been ill.

Cafeteria At Russell Will Add To Force

The new Russell school cafeteria, which opened on December 15, reports that during the holiday season it operated prior to the holiday vacation closing on December 17, 1,300 Type A hot lunches were served to the school children.

At the December meeting of the P.T.A., members voted to hire a third part-time worker in the cafeteria to assist the cook-managers, Mrs. George Hedges and Mrs. Clifford Kelly. Mrs. Claude Ferrigo was appointed and will begin her work when school reopens on January 3.

With three cooks, the cafeteria will be better able to handle the increase in lunches served when school resumes. It is anticipated this increase in lunches will reach more than 90% of the 250 pupils attending the school.

Because of state aid and food contributions, the cafeteria lunch cannot be duplicated in nutritional value with a home-packed lunch. In the cafeteria the children are receiving more than one-third their daily nutritional requirements, at the cost of 25 cents, which includes one half-pint of milk.

Mrs. R. J. Whittington, president of the P.T.A., is considering the possibility of rounding out the school lunch program with a refresher course in nutrition for the parents of Pine Grove township.

VALUE SEEN IN RADIO GIVE-AWAYS

As if the average American didn't live under enough tensions, trying to keep pace with inflation, foreign wars and such, it comes to mind that modern radio has added a new peril to the complications of everyday living.

We speak of the institution of radio give-away programs. Nowadays, every American—every one with a telephone, that is—lives in the constant jeopardy that he may be called by a radio give-away program, be offered fabulous fortune for answering a few questions, and find himself unprepared.

There is also the added peril that he may actually be able to recite for fame and fortune and yet be pre-emptorily barred from doing so because of being disconnected by some distant telephone operator. This is the unkindest cut-off of all, and has in recent weeks led to some hard feeling among radio and broadcasting companies.

Now this shaky give-away precipice on which Americans exist is not entirely bad. For one thing, in the opinion of James Thrasher, editorial writer for NEA Service, it puts a new and more immediate value on education for our young. There was a time when junior couldn't quite see the percentage in piling up stores of information, such as: "All Gaul is divided into three parts . . ." (or was during Caesar's time), wormed laboriously from the Latin pony.

Now, thanks to radio's incentive, all this has been changed. Junior has but to twirl the dial at random any evening to hear dumb-Johns and Janes raking in electric washers, trips to Bermuda, lifetime supplies of breakfast food, dog food and ball point pens, to be convinced of the value, here and now, of adequate and readily available knowledge.

One anguished housewife's moan that she just doesn't know who was the last president before William Howard Taft to wear a beard is proof positive that one should commit to memory not only the names and birthplaces and dates of all presidents, but also their facial appearances, middle names, outstanding peculiarities such as warts or harelips, and any other data that might conceivably pop into the fertile brains of those geniuses who devise the quizzes.

Thus, as each new burden on mankind has its compensations, so has this peril of the radio give-away. And think of all the persons it has either made rich beyond their wildest imaginations, or at least provided with some new aluminumware. And, in the realm of intangibles, think of the hope, the extra and immeasurable hope, which the give-away adds to "the American dream" of getting ahead.

Let us brace ourselves, then, for the worst—for either the tragic possibility that we may not know when quizzed, or that, knowing, we may even yet be thwarted by a chance pulling of a plug in a remote telephone switchboard. And strong in the knowledge that someday our call may come—and remain connected—face the future with fortitude.

THE CONSTITUTION VS. JUDGE WHITE

Judge Dewitt White of Morgantown, W. Va., sitting in Frankfurt, Germany, has denied an American woman accused of murder her constitutional right of trial by jury. His reason: "When an American leaves the continental United States, he leaves the United States Constitution behind."

This remarkable conclusion may come as a shock to the citizens of Hawaii, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, and other Americans living off the continental mainland. It may shock Americans in our zone of Germany, where the governing authority is American.

Does the Constitution follow the flag, even more closely than prosperity? We believe Judge White's decision to be his own law should be immediately challenged.

Now that the Christmas rush is over motorists in large numbers are taking advantage of the opportunity to display the many attractive residence Christmas lighting displays in and around the borough. Everyone agrees the exhibits surpass anything ever before attempted by Warren home owners.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce is receiving well-deserved praise for the part the organization had in making possible the large Yuletide exhibits that are attracting high commendation from citizens and visitors.

The Allegheny river at this point is practical. . . . frozen over for the first time this winter. Looks like Old Man Winter has arrived to stay a while.

High Pressure Salesmanship

Here And There

This And That: Congressmen Leon H. Gavin, of Oil City, who recently returned from an official inspection trip to points in Germany as a member of a special house committee, will not be available for talks before luncheon clubs and other organizations until some time in March. A program committee for the Warren Rotary Club made this discovery when they contacted him in the hopes of securing the representative for an address here at an early date. . . . Just a reminder that the retail committee of the Chamber of Commerce has announced stores will close Friday evening, New Year's Eve, at five o'clock. . . . Plans are being made for full broadcast by all networks of President Truman's "State of the Union" message to a joint session of congress scheduled for January 5. The time is one p. m. . . . The nation's rural movie-goers have chosen Ingrid Bergman and Bing Crosby for their favorite stars for the third successive year, according to the Poll conducted by Country Gentlemen. . . . June Allyson placed second among women stars, holding a slight lead over Irene Dunne. Gregory Peck retained his position as second choice among the male stars, followed by Gary Cooper, Roy Rogers and Peter Lawford. . . . Warren seems to be in the same fix as Titus where the Herald remarks "Eskating would be fine now if only we had a rink." . . . Last week's Forest Republican and Marienville Express appeared as a single issue due to continued illness of members of the staff. . . . This comment from the Corry Journal will interest Dragon Basketball players and fans. . . . "Corry High's was the first scored over the Dragons in many years and should stand the Beavers in good stead when the game gets rough later in the campaign. The win proved to the boys that they can go with the best in this section and should start them on the road to a successful campaign." . . . Collecting money from parking meters may be made an easier task by a device that is being given a trial test in Franklin. It is a special cart which contains a cylindrical receptacle box with a rectangular-shaped receptacle on top for the deposit of coins. The coins slide through a slot and into a locked container. . . . Warning has been issued by veterans' groups concerning a new type of racket which is being operated in some sections by solicitors representing themselves as employed by a veterans' newspaper and selling forms for the purpose of collecting money paid into government insurance. It is pointed out that no such forms have been authorized by the govern-

Details Little Hazy About Coffee Club Annual Meeting

The Coffee Club held its annual meeting for 1948 on Christmas morning at Geracimos Home Spun Inn with one of the largest crowds in the history of the informal organization turning out to enjoy the hospitality of George and Gus Geracimos.

That much virtually everyone who was there will agree on, but for anything more, the details become as hazy as footprints in a blizzard.

Seems that Town Council President Bill Rice, retiring president of the organization, was in charge of things up to and including the election of officers. Bill, probably from force of habit, entered into all recent meetings of the borough solons, immediately moved that the organization go into "executive session" for the business matters. Then, apparently feeling a change of heart because it was Christmas, he graciously consented to allow the newsmen from the Times-Mirror and Radio Station WNAE to sit in on the proceedings, "providing we threw away our pencils."

So from here on, we'll rely on memory to tell you what happened. Chuck Tranter, WNAE newscaster, was featured in the role of a mystic for "an enlightening program of magic and sleight-of-hand." The Every Knights barbershop quartet were called to the front and drew quite a hand for their special Christmas numbers.

Then came the election of officers, with the nominations being made by a committee composed of "Spike" Schuler, county register and recorder, and "Speed" Myer. Try as he might, the retiring president was unable to stir up any argument concerning the nominations, so the secretary was instructed to cast the ballot for Homer Bowersox as president; Jim Springer, vice president; Leroy Schneek, secretary - treasurer; Chuck Tranter, head of the Grievance Committee; and Bill Rice, trustee of three years. The nominating committee hinted darkly that the nominations of Schneek and Tranter were the result of pressure exerted by members of the community's up-and-coming Junior Chamber of Commerce.

A beautiful basket of flowers were presented to the hosts, Gus and George, and the new vice president, Jim Springer, made an acceptance speech, in which he outlined the usual "do-nothing" program for the organization this coming year. Oh, yes, somewhere along the line retiring treasurer Art Langdon reported the treasury was in its customary state of non-existence and Chairman Rice declined to recognize a club member who was trying to get the floor to demand an audit.

The informal fun-fest came to a close with the Every Knights leading the group in the singing of the merry holiday favorite, "Jingle Bells."

Delight Your Guests With Delicious Pop Corn Treats

Crisp, clear winter days are here, and with them come fun and pleasant traditions as old as Christmas itself, and as genuinely American as Santa Claus. Is there any one too old to enjoy the old familiar sound of corn popping in the popper, and its wonderful aroma drifting through the house?

But of course, to make your holidays gay and successful, you want a pop corn that really pops. You don't want "an audit" and "fiddles." So get prepared now with good pop corn—the kind that has been sealed in air-tight tins, like Jolly Time, the world's favorite.

Pop corn is always a favorite because it can be served in so many different, delicious ways. It can be seasoned with salt and butter, sugared, and made into balls. Here are four recipes for delicious pop corn snacks. They're handy when friends drop in. Great with beverages and good for children too. They're certain to be the "hit of the holidays":

Peanut Butter Pop Corn
Add peanut butter to melted butter, heat until blended, and pour over freshly popped corn. Really deliciously different. Try it tonight!

Pop Corn Brittle
Fill a 9"x9" buttered cake tin 1/2" deep with popped corn. Put in warming oven. Melt 2 cups granulated sugar, stirring constantly. When melted, add 1 tablespoon butter and 1/2 teaspoon baking soda. Whip thoroughly. Add 1 tablespoon vanilla or favorite flavor. Stir and pour over corn. Let cool. Cut in squares.

Pop Corn Cheese Snacks
Here's a tender, crisp pop corn delicacy you'll make over and over again. It tastes mighty good in hot soups, and is well-munched with apples or beverages.

Spread 2 quarts freshly popped corn in a flat pan; keep hot and crisp in oven. Melt 1/2 cup butter and 1/2 cup grated American or Parmesan cheese together. Add 1/2 teaspoon salt. Pour mixture over hot corn. Stir until every pop corn puff is cheese-flavored. Um-m-m-m!

Chocolate Coated Pop Corn
Looks different! Tastes different! Snowy white pop corn covered with dark chocolate. Really delicious. Try it!

Combine 1 cup sugar, 1/2 cup water, and 1/2 cup corn syrup in saucepan. Cook for 5 minutes over slow fire. Add 3 tablespoons of butter or margarine and 3 ounces of unwrapped chocolate. Cook until small portion tested in cold water stiffens and cracks. Pour over 4 quarts popped corn. Stir until chocolate is well distributed and turns sugary.

Pop Corn Candy
Grind popped Jolly Time Pop Corn in your food chopper, using the coarse blades, until you have 4 cups ground pop corn. Mix: 1 cup brown sugar, 1 cup molasses, 1/2 cup butter or margarine in a medium sized sauce pan. Cook until small amount forms a soft ball when tested in cold water. Then add the ground popped corn, pour into a buttered pan. When partially cool, cut into squares.

Ritchie - Dawson Rites December 19 In Coshocton

One of the most beautiful weddings of the holiday season in Coshocton, O., took place on Sunday, December 19, in the Presbyterian church, when Marjorie Lenore Dawson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marous Dawson, 1025 Walnut street, Coshocton, became the bride of Alexander Ritchie, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Ritchie, Sr., of Russell.

The ceremony was performed at 2:30 p. m., by the Rev. R. M. Kiskaddon against a setting of pines and poinsettias. A large basket of pompons and gladioli, banked with palms, centered the altar and two seven-branched candelabra were arranged at the sides.

Preceding the ceremony, Frederick P. Huntington, soloist, and Walter C. Crawford, organist, presented a half-hour recital of wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a gown of heavy ivory satin, designed with deep off-the-shoulder yoke of sheer marquisette edged with a wide bertha of Chantilly lace. The long sleeves were finished with points of the same lace over the hands and lace formed the bustle back and cascaded down the full skirt, which was worn over a hooped satin petticoat. The same lace trimmed the full length cathedral train. Her fingertip veil of imported illusion was held in place with a satin band trimmed with a fringe of lace and lace rosettes and a full of blossoms at the sides. She also had a lace handkerchief carried by her mother on her wedding day and a gold locket and chain, gift of the bridegroom. Her flowers were bride's roses and stephanotis, centered with an orchid.

John Wagoner, of Orlando, Fla., and formerly of Coshocton, was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Margery Ritchie, sister of the bridegroom, of Russell, and Mary Ann Birkle, of Columbus. Their frocks were styled alike of velvet, with wide, off-the-shoulder necklines and berthas forming full sleeves. Skirts were full cut and their mitts were of matching color. Bridesmaids were also of matching velvet, braided and studded with pearls. The maid of honor wore American beauty shade and bridesmaids wore in emerald green. Their flowers were American beauty roses with gold ties.

Thomas O. Rice, Rocky River, served as best man for Mr. Ritchie and ushers were Harry Graham, of Bexley, cousin of the bride, and Dorsey Wells, of Akron.

For her daughter's wedding and to receive the 100 guests at the reception which followed, Mrs. Dawson wore a spice brown creck, matching hat and Talisman roses. Mrs. Ritchie wore royal blue, with matching hat and a corsage of pink rosebuds.

Flowers and a wedding cake with traditional decoration centered the bride's table, where Mrs. Donald Harper and Mrs. Ray Wyrich presided. Evelyn Jane Piper, Columbus, served the wedding cake and other aids were Mrs. D. W. Dawson, Lena Daugherty and Edna Mohler.

When the couple left for a short wedding trip, the bride was wearing a smoke gray wool gabardine suit, green accessories and the orchid from her bouquet.

The newlyweds will reside at 165 East 11th street, Columbus. Mrs. Ritchie was graduated from the Coshocton High School and attended Western College, Oxford, and Capital University in Columbus. She is employed in the accounting department of the Ohio Bell Telephone Company at Columbus. A senior at Ohio State University, in the college of agriculture, Mr. Ritchie served with the navy in World War II. He is a member of the Naval Reserve.

HIT-RUN INVESTIGATION
City police last evening investigated an alleged hit and run accident which occurred in Times Square. When sifted down, it appears that a pedestrian walked into the side of a car and the driver pulled away without knowing anything had happened. He appeared at the police station when summoned by a witness who had secured his license number.

able to be present. These were Miss Janet Jones, who is home on vacation from her college in DeLand Fla., where she is majoring in music. Miss Florence Freeman, from Penn State College; Miss Valeria Freeman, from Edinboro Teachers College; Miss Jane McDowell, from Wilson College, Boston, and her college friend, Miss Santou. The college girls were glad of the reunion with members of their class, known as "WICKS", and both gatherings.

The Methodist youth group held a fine Christmas party in the church parlors Thursday evening, at a later hour than the WICKS, so that part of the group attended both gatherings.

The faculty of the Youngsville school held a Christmas party at the Cross Roads, Russell, just before a number of the members left for their Christmas vacation. Those in attendance reported a very good dinner and a jolly time.

Here's a Canned Fire Extinguisher

Everything comes in cans, and now they've canned a fire extinguisher. Being demonstrated in Bridgeport, Conn., the device is designed for use in the home. The can shoots a 16-foot stream when the trigger is pulled. Main ingredient is carbon tetrachloride.

Alfino Fanini had better like his home. He's in it until June 16, 1949; and, if he steps outside, it will be boarded up and he'll be homeless. Fanini is padlocked inside under a Vancouver, B. Style Shop Drubs N. P. C.; Struthers Wins Over Legion

The Style Shoppers kept an even pace in the first three stanzas with totals of 10, 10 and 12, and then uncorked a blistering 35-points scoring spurge in the final stanza to smother the New Process five, 67 to 24, in YMCA City Basketball League firing on the Y floor last night. The Style Shop is setting the pace in the league with a perfect record.

John Foley, Style Shop guard, racked up nine field goals and a free throw for 19 points, just five notches shy of the entire total for the opposition. Bill Weidert was credited with 17 units, Bill Massa 13 and Bob Hand 11. Rudy Ahlgren notched an even dozen points for New Process.

A second league tilt was staged on more even terms, with Struthers Wells nudging the American Legion, 44 to 40. The game was a see-saw affair with the lead changing hands several times. Struthers, however, outpointed the Legionnaires, 14 to 3, in the second stanza and managed to retain a slim lead in the home stretch.

Bob Grosch with 13 and Chuck Niederlander with 10 were the high performers for the victors, while Sealise paced the Legion squad with 12.

Dragon Basketball Battle Alumni In Beaty Gym Tonite

A light holiday interscholastic basketball program is on schedule this week, with most of the teams in the district marking time until after New Year's Day.

Local interest will center on the Warren Dragons' clash tonight with an Alumni squad and their battle Friday night against the Erie Tech five.

Both tilts will be played in Beaty gym, starting at 8:15 o'clock. Preliminary rounds will start at 7 p. m. A play-by-play account of both the Alumni and the Erie Tech tilts will be broadcast over WNAE-FM.

The Youngblood squad will remain idle all this week, returning to interscholastic competition with a battle at Sheffield on Jan. 4.

Meanwhile, the Sheffield Wolverines will journey to Bradford Thursday night for a return scrap with the highly-touted St. Bernards five.

Other games on tap this week include a home game for Kane against Brookville tonight and a clash Thursday night pairing Erie Tech and Bradford on the Owis' court.

BOWLING

LADIES' CITY LEAGUE

Bartsch Burnitures occupied second high rung on the Ladies' City tenpin league ladder, just a step behind the pace-setting Walker's Dairy squad, as the result of a 3-1 triumph over Valones Shoes on Penn lanes last night.

Struthers-Wells, last week's second place team, dropped to the third slot as the result of a 3-1 defeat by Ann's Beauty Salon. In other league tilts, Walkers split even with Brown's Boot Shop and Kinnears Stationers topped the Printz Co., 3-1.

High individual performers included Vivian Sterling with 167-183-169-529 for Kinnears; Rita Milley with 169-173-180-521; Rose Juliano with 188-183-173-514 and Ann Lucia with 149-176-177-502, both for Ann's; and Millie Burman with 155-192-186-503 for Printz Co.

MEN'S CITY LEAGUE

Paul Coppola slammed the sticks with plenty of steam for a 637 aggregate on games of 184, 222 and 231 but his team, the Carver House, had to be content with an even split of the match points with Glendora Coffee in Men's City league firing on Penn lanes last night.

One other 600 series, a 176-235-193-604 for Norm Wooster, highlighted the string as his squad, the Butter Krust Warehouse Shopmen's Bakers, in other scraps, the pace-setting Warren Building Blocks dropped a 3-1 decision to Warren Billard Academy, and Texas Lunch tripped up Dykes Dairy, 3-1.

Prospects Of Rain Appear At Pasadena

Pasadena, Calif., Dec. 23.—(AP)—The two Rose Bowl coaches are going to be unhappy if the Tournament of Roses sunshine luck runs out New Year's Day.

A long range forecast has not been issued as yet, but amateur predictors watching the rain pelt southern California yesterday, began to worry that the California-Northwestern contest may be a battle of the mud.

Both coaches, Bob Voigts of Northwestern and Lynn Waldorf of the California Bears, are on record as praying for clear skies and a fast field.

The Wildcats did not play a single game in the mud this season. They have practiced several times in the muck, however—including yesterday.

The Rose Bowl for years has enjoyed amazing luck in the weather line. Actually, the last time it let loose from above was the 1934 game, which is known as the year of the big flood. It is also well remembered for Columbia's 7-0 upset via the ancient hidden ball trick over a heavily favored Stanford eleven.

PANTHERS KEEP SLATE CLEAN IN JR. LOOP

Panthers remained undefeated in four starts in YMCA Junior Basketball League competition by nudging the Red Raiders, 24 to 21, on the Y floor yesterday afternoon.

Sigworth of the Panthers and White of the Red Raiders shared scoring laurels with seven points each.
The Red Raiders were out in front, 13 to 10, at the three-quarter mark, but faded in the home stretch, getting only three points to mine for the Panthers.

Score by quarters:
Panthers 7 9 9 24
Raiders 6 6 6 21

After All, Winter's a Good Skate

Winter stalls traffic on snowy hills,
Winter can freeze the plumbing.
Winter raises a fellow's bills,
But it's nice to know it's coming!

Winter brings the cough and sneeze,
Winter endangers a city.
Winter makes people fall with ease,
But when it comes, it's pretty!

SUGAR GROVE

Sugar Grove, Dec. 24.—The C. and O. Missionary Circle held its Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Walter Sweeney, with 12 present. Mrs. Neil Scott presided at a short business meeting. Mrs. Doris Jones had charge of the devotionals, reading the Christmas story from Luke 2 and reading a story about Christmas Bells. Miss Gladys Carlson offered prayer and Christmas carols were sung with Mrs. Scott as pianist. Mary Catherine Sweeney sang "Away in the Manger," after which she acted as Santa Claus and distributed the gifts. A social time was enjoyed and Mrs. Sweeney, assisted by Mrs. Hosea Gourley, served refreshments. The home was made lovely with Christmas greens and decorations. The January meeting will meet with Mrs. Burt Schoonover.

Mrs. Hosea Gourley entertained her Sunday School class and several guests at a Christmas party at her home. Games were enjoyed and an exchange of gifts, and Mrs. Gourley served refreshments, after which the class went caroling. Those present were Nancy Schoonover, Suzanne Onink, Doris Eurch, Donna Lee Wright, Ruth Ann Scott, Donna Stran, Violet Jones, Sally Siggins, Sandra Furlow, Lang, Elmer, Douglas Welsh, Keith Sweeney, Marian Abbott, Donald Smith and Sherwood Olson.

CORYDON

The Ray Rowans, of Clarion, and Mr. and Mrs. Gale Smith, of Bradford, will visit the Lloyd Smiths during the holidays.

The Corydon schools closed December 23 for the holiday recess. Mrs. Ethel McDermott, of Willow Creek, passed away at her home on Tuesday, December 21, after an extended illness. She had many acquaintances and friends in this locality.

Although ice cream now is considered an American dish, it was known in England, France, and Italy at an early date.

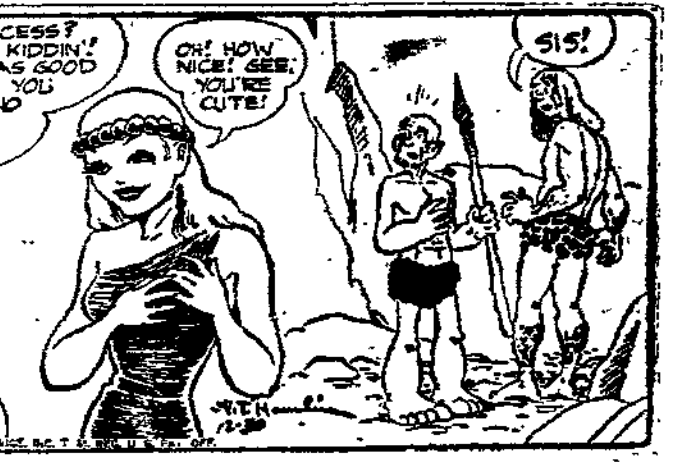

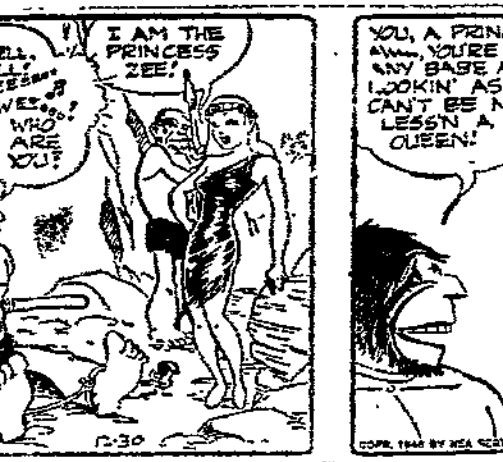

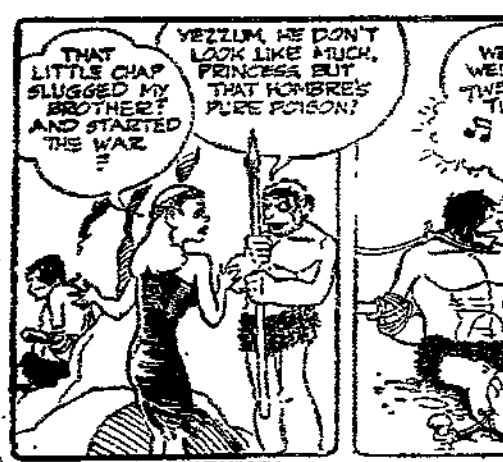

Two thirds of the area of Australia has an inadequate water supply, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

It's a Sound Idea

From the tweezers he holds, General Electric engineer George Ledges, Schenectady, N. Y., dropped 11 pieces of cork and they remained suspended in mid-air. The fragments are held aloft by sound waves, pitched too high to be heard by the human ear. Waves, from a tiny air whistle two feet above the tweezers, are focused on the metal reflector at bottom. The waves coming down meet those coming up, creating a still area where the cork remains stationary.

For many years, Mrs. Morck had played a vital role in the civic life of this community and also as president of the Mack Oil company, in which position she demonstrated executive qualities of a high order.

Mrs. Morck's time and means were given generously to the support of useful community enterprises.

Dr. Morck preceded his wife in death on November 4, 1925. The body will be removed to the family residence, 205 W. First street, at noon today.

Corydon Fire Unit Reelects Its President

Corydon, Dec. 27.—At the December meeting of the Volunteer Fire Department, election of officers resulted in choice of the following: L. J. Learn, reelected president; Hazel Pasarella, treasurer; and Ann VanSickel, secretary. A newly-elected vice president is Roy Adams. It was thought advisable to postpone election of other officers until such time as the department is in a position to purchase fire equipment, and there was considerable discussion concerning books pertaining to same.

On Tuesday evening in the Methodist church, the Youth Fellowship group presented a pageant, "A Christmas Blessing." Tall candles and a beautifully trimmed tree were used effectively as decorative feature and lent charm to the scene. In charge of the presentation was Mrs. Paul Duntley, who is acting counselor for the group.

Mrs. Lida Wilcox was hostess to Wednesday Night Social Club members at a very enjoyable Christmas party. Gifts were exchanged by members and a gaily decorated tree added to the festivities. The evening, spent in playing first hundred, was concluded by presentation of awards and a bounteous supper-luncheon.

Local Woman Attends Rites At Arlington

Mrs. Henry Shield is en route to Washington, D. C., to attend final rites for her brother, Lt. Vance K. Blyler, who has been returned to this country for reinterment in Arlington National Cemetery, Arlington, Va.

Lt. Blyler was killed during the Battle of the Bulge, January 1, 1945. He was awarded the Purple Heart and Silver Star posthumously, with the following citation: "For gallantry in action in connection with military operations against an armed enemy. On the night of 31 December 1944, near xxx, Lt. Blyler mounted the rear deck of his tank and, manning the calibre 50 machine gun, quickly destroyed the enemy weapon and crew. During this action, an enemy anti-tank gun began firing on Lieutenant Blyler's position. He immediately brought the fire of his entire platoon on the enemy gun and destroyed it. All during the night, Lieutenant Blyler exposed himself to enemy sniper and small arms fire in order to move among his men to comfort and reassure them. The following day, during an attack, Lieutenant Blyler's tank was disabled by enemy fire. Uninjured, he crawled to an artillery forward observer and returned with him to a position where he pointed out the enemy

Murder Gets Along

Chapter 3

I WAS still wondering a moment later when Sam Rankin suddenly appeared at my side. He had a drink in each hand. He handed me one with a weak smile.

"Have one, pal," he grunted. "Helps you enjoy the animal act more. My God!"

I took it, and downed it, and felt almost human again.

"Greater love hath no man for his wife, Sam," I said solemnly. "Or do you like things that come out of the woodwork, too?"

"God forbid!" he groaned. "I begged Dot to skip this crowd, but I told her I'd never heard of anything I'd won. But she'd never admit it. I mean, she's realizing that war makes awful heels out of people who were once very nice. I... What now?"

The last was because the constant undertone of boiler factory sounds had suddenly become bled out by a roaring and belching and a shrilling over on the other side of the room. Sam weighed over two-ton but he left me standing at the post. I picked up ground, though, and I was only a step behind when he went through the fringe of the group.

In the center of the group were two men. One was Pretty Boy René DeFoe, and his face was so twisted with rage it looked like it was going to fly off from between his ears. The other lad was about three-fifths DeFoe's build. A little run that would meet up with danger in any stiff wind. And he, too, was very much riled up about something.

They were standing about six feet from each other, and screaming their lungs raw. Part of it was in French, but most of it was in a chatter that I'd never heard before in my travels. Screaming, yelling, and waving their arms like crazy. And the gathered group? They just stood there forming a circle, doing nothing but waiting for something to happen.

"Here, here, Gentlemen, please!"

BY ROBERT SIDNEY BOWEN

Chapter 4

AT seven o'clock the next morning the alarm clock reached way down into my sleep and pulled handfuls of red hot coals up out through the top of my head. I opened my eyes and then closed them quickly before my eyeballs could pop and go rolling across the floor of my bedroom. For perhaps three or four years I lay there under the sheets waiting for blessed death to take it all away. But the fates were unkind and I went on living.

Somewhat I got out of bed, and got into the bathroom to brush my teeth, and follow it with half a dozen glasses of cold water. Way way behind all the ringing bells in my head I remembered meeting Dot and Sam at the Stork. By mutual silent agreement none of us said a word about the screwy cocktail party. Instead, the four of us grimly concentrated on forgetting it with fun and fizz. I said goodnight to Paula at her apartment door about five. But I couldn't remember coming to my place. I must have, though, because there I was. And with all the hangovers in the world rolled into one and stuffed inside my one and only good head!

Turning on the shower and stripping was more or less automatic. In back of my thoughts about last night was something about a scrambled brain take a look. It came, though, when the needle points of icy water hit me. To be sure, to be sure I had a business appointment with a guy at ten o'clock. But then I also remembered who the guy was, and what I had done to him. So I finished my shower, towelled myself nice and rosy, put my pajamas on again, and crawled back into bed!

At ten-fifteen I came out of it happy to note, and feel that I was well on the way toward being coming a new man. In fact, I felt so good I even toyed with the idea of climbing on the wagon for a couple of weeks or so. My decision by the time I was charged from Warren General hospital and is convalescing nicely at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Swift and daughter, Linda, and son, Terry, are leaving to spend an extended time in Dallas and Houston, Texas. Mr. Swift has secured employment in Texas.

John Cherry has returned to his home in Napoli, after spending a few days here visiting Mr. and Mrs. George Black.

Mrs. George Akers, Mrs. Nelson Crooks and Miss Lucia Browne were recent visitors in Warren.

Among localities "old" shopping in Bradford were Mrs. Carl Swanson and Mrs. Roy Adams and many others.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Russ were recent Randolph callers. During the holiday season Mr. and Mrs. James Bernard and family will visit at the Russ home.

R. H. Duntley, a patient for several days in a Buffalo hospital, was recently discharged and now getting along nicely at his home.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Luce and family, of South Valley, and others were holiday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Black and family.

A large group of expert welders sent here by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company is housed along the local line and each day sends them busy welding rails. Many miles of new track have been placed and other repairs made that got underway some time back.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Marsinek, of Berea, O., have arrived and are holidaying with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Prue.

suddenly, he cut it all off short and went completely relaxed. His little eyes hunted out Sam Rankin, and dammed it if the little low didn't smile like a sulky, spoiled child.

"A thousand pardons, Monsieur," he said in a squeaky voice. "I am desolate that such a thing should happen. A thousand pardons, Monsieur. And to you, Madame, a thousand pardons, also."

He got out the last as he turned to Dot Rankin, and he almost lost balance and fell on his face, he bowed so low. And then as both Sam and Dot mumbled something, the little guy executed a snappy about-face, walked through the gathering that gave way for him, and right on out the front door, leaving his hat and coat behind. That is to say, if he had brought either.

Half an hour later Paula and I took our leave. The near fight had brought a quick end to the party. A couple of the guests had carted DeFoe away, and the rest of them had gone hunting for their wraps. All in all a million or so words had flown back and forth. But mostly they were about the fight in enough words to date Sam and Dot to meet us later at the Stork where we'd try to drink this one into forgotten memories. Then I collected Paula, and left. In the taxi she spoke her first words. At least they were the first I heard her utter since the shooting and the uproar.

"Poor Dot and Sam," she said. Then, giving me a look out the corner of her eye, "And what were you hoping to do? Break his neck just because he had been nice to me, thinking of something else, so I answered more or less automatically.

"Yeah. But I guess I'm out of practice."

Paula sniffed, and went very quiet. For once she didn't act as if she had a secret. I was thinking some more. Thinking that it was certainly very poor business to slug a client kicking before he'd given you the usual retainer!
